Great Family Walks in Ipswich

1. Ipswich Nature Centre, Queens Park, Goleby Ave, Ipswich
   Find out about our native animals and see live quolls, bilbies, snakes, emus, wombats and more! Enjoy an easy walk and view displays at the free Environmental Education Centre.

2. Purga Nature Reserve, 240 Middle Rd, Purga
   Easy, level boardwalks suitable for strollers and wheelchairs lead you through amazing and rare paperbark forest. Keep an eye out for wallabies.

3. Haig St Quarry Bushland, 59 High St, Brassall.
   A great place for a family BBQ or picnic with a choice between two great walking trails through the bush.

4. Kholo Gardens, 243 Riverside Dr, Muirlea
   It's a nature play paradise and Ipswich's best kept secret! It has short forest trails along a shady creek and access to the Brisbane River where platypus can sometimes be seen.

5. Pan Pacific Peace Gardens, 1 Macauliffe St, Redbank
   Check out the water dragons around the lake, the wide variety of birds. You can even spot a flying fox colony.

6. White Rock Spring Mt Conservation Estate, School Rd, Redbank Plains
   Explore some great trails to amazing rock features from Paperbark Flats Picnic Area. Why not take your bikes and head out to White Rock itself?

7. Harding's Paddock - nestled in Flinders Goodman Conservation Estate
   Harding's Paddock offers a range of bushwalks including a bush tucker trail. Try the Gamlen Circuit early in the morning for great bird watching. You can even camp here!

8. Denmark Hill Conservation Park, 2 Outridge St, Ipswich
   A short walk from the Ipswich CBD this is a great place for a walk through the bush. Step back to the dinosaur age at Triassic Park, or climb the water tower for great views.

9. Walter Zimmerman Park, c Kirkston Place, Pine Mountain
   Take a relaxing walk through the bush, and if you would like a longer walk, you can link up with the Brisbane Valley Rail Trail and keep going as far as you want!

10. Ric Natrass Environmental Park, 82 Eric St, Goodna.
    It's an oasis in the suburbs and a great place to take the family for a short nature break.

Content supplied by Ipswich City Council
an official Nature Play QLD Partner

View trail guides available here at Ipswich City Council website

Check out www.natureplayqld.org.au for more outdoor activities, things to do and places to go