

Dear Principal,

Outdoor Classroom Day QLD will take place on Thursday 1 November 2018, and I would love for our school to get involved.

Outdoor Classroom Day QLD is part of an international campaign to celebrate the power of outdoor learning and play for young minds; it is supported by the Queensland Government and Nature Play QLD is rolling it out across the state.

I suggest we get involved by pledging at www.outdoorclassroomdayqld.org.au. It's free and easy, and Nature Play QLD will supply complimentary outdoor learning lesson plans for each grade that are linked to our curriculum.

Our participation can range from just one class outside on this day, or any day in Spring. It's a great opportunity for our school to trial and develop outdoor learning, or to celebrate within our community what we've already achieved in outdoor learning.

We can also receive free Nature Play Passports for every child to continue their outdoor learning and nature play after Outdoor Classroom Day has passed.

There are many benefits to outdoor learning. It stimulates an intrinsic motivation for learning, activates thinking outside the box and achieves greater learning outcomes through improved engagement, and much more.

If you're interested in getting involved, we can pledge our involvement to ensure that our participation is acknowledged, as we demonstrate the growing movement to champion outdoor learning.

Kind regards,
